A new drama entitled Gold, by CHABLES READS, taken from his well-known story, "Never too Late to Mend," has been produced at the Howard Atheneum, Boston.

A new farce, written by Dorsricks, and performed for the first and last time at Wallack's, in New York was thought by some to be the production of his intimate friend "Damphool."

The South Carolina Gazette, published in Charleston during the year 1737, a file of which has been recently discovered, contains frequent notices of a "play house" in that city, which refutes the general opinion that the first theatre in this country was opened at Williamburg, Va., in 1752.

ANOTHER JAIL DELIVERY -We had another jail delivery about four o'clock Thursday morning. It seems that N. C. Bisnor, who was in confinement awaiting his trial upon a charge of burglary, suceceded in picking a hole in the inside wall, through which he made his way into the open space in front of the cells on the first floor. These he succeeded in opening by breaking the locks and releasing eight others. The bars around the stairway leading to the second floor, were then forced and two prisoners released from that portion of the jail. The eleven prisoners then returned and effected their escape by picking a hole in the outer wall of Bishop's cell and letting themselves down by a blanket. With the exception of a solitary old man, the jull was tenantless yesterday morning.

The jail is very insecure, and the wonder is that any man of the least ingenuity has ever been confined in it for a week at a time, if he could have procured a case knife or a pewter spoon with which to pick out the mortar, and thus leave the rocks entirely loose and easily removed. The walls could scarcely have been put up more favorably for prisoners to break through them. It seems Bishop had nothing but a small bickery stick with which to remove the mortar around the rocks in the inside wall, and yet he appears to have accomplished the work in a very short time. Having effected an entrance into the open space in front of the cells, a small bar of iron was procured with which the mortar and rocks in the outside wall were removed.

Our County Court should take immediate steps for erecting a new jail, either upon the old or a new site, the walls of which should be so constructed as to be proof against all attempts at picking with such instruments as prisoners could procure. This must be done if it is expected or desired to retain those whom it may be necessary to confine in jail.

"The maximum estimates of crops that we hear of is 3,250,000; bales, and the uninformal 3/0 5/0 0; but until a killing frost has occurred no hear or opinion can be formed;"

Our opinion is that with an average frost the crop will reach 3,500,0 0 hales. We have this estimate upon the fact that the season for growing and maturing have been all that could be asked for and that in the main every planfor's crop will be fully equal to his last year's crop, and the surplus shove had year to be made from the start is last planted. There are doubtless some planfors whose crops will fall short of hat year's, while others will exceed the previous crops, so that on an average the individual crops will be about as the previous year. about as the previous year.

The Charleston Mercury says the Cotton market on Friday, the 17th, opened with a good demand and at fall prices but on Satur day and Monday there was some falling off, and prices ranged in faver of buyers-in some instances, at the close of the market, at decline. The miles on Friday amounted to 763 bales, on Satur day to 359, and Monday 159 bales, making the total sales 1991 bales, at a range of 11% 2812 No.

New Orleans Market, Sept. 18.

Covers—We closed our weekly review upon a firm Cotton market, with only a limited supply effering the closing rates showing an advance for the week of about 35 cent 5 k. On Saturday again there was a poor assortment, and helders were claiming full prices, but particisers were facinitive short 1800 hales. With increased supplies on Monday, factors were rather more desirous to sell, and some 2 0 hales were disposed of at Irregular but mostly easier prices for buyers the market cleaing without quotable attention. On Tanshay bayers still had the advantage, and took some 30 b hales at prices showing a reduction from our previous figures of about 40 cent 5 k. Factors were willing sellers again on Wednesday, and with further slight concessions, disposed of about 400 hales, but on Tanshay, with a reduced supply offering the market presented a firmer appearance, the sides again reaching 60 6 hales. Yesterday the demand was fair, but with a limited sizek on sale the business fell off to about 2500 bales, which would make an aggregate for the week of 17,606 bales taken for Creat Feliain, Prance, Spein, the Continent, and the North. The market closed rather firmly at our quotations, which however, have a faciling for the week of about 6 km of the presence of the week of a section of the weeker. FEVER AND AGUE. A ND the various affections consequent upon a disord STOMACH OR LIVER, such as Indigestion, Assist omnells, Colicky Palms, Henriburn, Loss of Appells, Descry, Costiveness, Blind and Blooding Piles. In all ser Bleumaile, and Neuralpic Affections, It has in numerous on proved highly temedicial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely verstable compound, prepared on strictly seientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated HollanProfessor, Bearhave. Because of its great success in most of the European Blattes, its introduction into the United States was in tended more especially for those of our fatherland acutional here and there over the face of the mighty country. Meeting will great success among them, I saw after it to the American public knowing that its truly wenderful medicinal virtues must be ac knowledged.

It is particularly recommended to these persons whose ev dent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrifling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in, fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

North:—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sirk, west and low spirited, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CALTION

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many indictions, which the public should guard againt purchasing. Be not persuad it to buy anything else until you have given Buerhave's Holins: "titurs a fair trial. One bettle will convince you how infinite;" superior it is to all these immitaions.
